It's time to release and let go the concept of separation.

Your Higher Self connects to Source via the energy of your soul.

You are ALWAYS connected, it simply takes your belief that you are.

And so is all life.

If you begin to see the animal kingdom with the eyes of God, you will also see quite clearly the God that lives in them.

Are you willing to change your perspective, both of your self and the world around you?

It's so easy, so natural, and healing to do.

You will feel more connected to all of life, to all of You, and to Source.

All your relationships will naturally deepen.

And you will feel more happiness, joy, love and bliss.

Doesn't this mean the universe to you deep in your heart?
